

BOOKMINDERS 2018 YEAR-IN-REVIEW

Posted on January 28, 2019

BOOKMINDERS®

2018

Year-in-Review

Jessica Minkus Named Bookminders Chief Operating Officer

Tom Joseph, Founder and CEO of Bookminders, talks about Jessica's 12-year rise from staff accountant to the person responsible for the daily operations of the company.

"Jessica's exceptional work ethic and ambition led to her rapid expansion of responsibilities. Her tenure has coincided with Bookminders' remarkable growth and continuing quality improvement. I am confident in Jessica's ability and leadership. With her at its helm, I expect Bookminders to continue to grow and succeed."

Jessica, a graduate of Ohio State University, holds prior experience in private and public accounting. She volunteers for a variety of nonprofits and has served as a Partner for Social Venture Partners Pittsburgh.

Bookminders Moves Corporate Office to Pittsburgh's South Side

After 26 years on Pittsburgh's North Side, Bookminders moved its headquarters to a newly renovated building on the South Side. The company purchased the property and adjacent parking lot last December and completed construction in October of this year. The space features expanded training facilities, collaborative work stations, and smart office features designed for sustainability.

Employee Spotlights Highlight Exceptional Work-Life Flexibility

Bookminders released several employee spotlight pieces this year featuring Françoise Wilson, Melanie Rutan, and Anne Marie Wiegmann.

These employee spotlights have appeared in various InCommunity Magazines and on our social media. In June, the Baltimore Business Journal featured Francoise Wilson's story in their "Five Minutes With" section.

Read and download all of our literature pieces in the Literature section of our website.

2018 ALOM Spring Educational Conference Features Bookminders Panel

Bookminders' Founder and CEO Tom Joseph, Munhall Borough Manager Joe Varhola, and Edgeworth Borough Manager John Schwend discussed financial controls and security at the 2018 ALOM 2018 Spring Educational Conference.

View Session: Controlling Costs and Improving Security

Looking Forward to 2019

The Bookminders family would like to wish you the best for the upcoming new year.

Have a safe and joyous holiday season!

Pittsburgh | Philadelphia | Baltimore

877-517-2665